BTL and BTL Surpass are now Surpass Assessment

January 2023 - The BTL, Surpass, and BTL Surpass brands are combining into one brand name: Surpass Assessment.

This change forms part of the growth of Surpass from an assessment platform to a full range of global services and integrations, allowing us to ensure all our products and services are easily recognisable.

With this change, Surpass Assessment will be able to focus on growth and continue expanding excellent services to customers across the world.

- Our assessment platform, Surpass, will continue to be known as the Surpass Platform.
- Other products and services currently branded BTL will transition to Surpass, for example the BTL Test Centre Network will become the Surpass Test Centre Network.

“This new name reflects the growth and changes since we started out at BTL Group in 1985, to become a market-leading international assessment platform. It allows our customers to be confident working with our growing, secure ecosystem of software and services, and aids our mission to improve the assessment experience for everyone.”

Group CEO, Keith Myers
